Paragraph 4 of the resolution

As a general matter, Senegal takes part in the activities of various Fisheries institutions and bodies. The aim of this participation is to enhance the application of management measures, to better manage shared stocks, to harmonize and coordinate resource management systems, as well as adopting common measures for the monitoring and control of fishing vessels.

Fishing vessels are granted renewable yearly fishing licenses. This procedure allows, should a vessel commit a serious infringement, to withdraw its license and consider appropriate sanctions.

The vessel owner shall submit, on at least a monthly basis, the area (latitude, longitude) where fishing activities have taken place in the last 30 days and the total catches in that period.

The vessel owners and masters shall comply with international fishing regulations, namely:

- Having on-board a fishing log where the master shall record all catches, as well as planned loadings and landings.
- When landing catches in port, presenting the landing declaration mentioned in the paragraph above to the port authorities .

The vessel owner shall comply to all relevant international regulations.
